PILLORY REPEATS IN BELMONT—JUNGALEERS DEFEAT GRIFFMEN

PILLORY WINS BIG BELMONT STAKE EVENT

Preakness Winner Defeats Snob II and Hea for Second $50,000 Classic.

BELMONT PARK RACE
TRACK, N. Y., June 10.—
R. T. Wilson's Pillory, winner of the Preakness, today captured the fifty-fifth running of the famous Belmont Stakes with an approximate cash value of $50,000. Snob 2d was second and Hes third.

30,000 See Race. fore than 30,000 persons, from nany sections of the East, were on this afternoon to witness the The Belmont stakes is the old-

Roads leading to the track were clogged with all kinds of motor vehicles and special trains were required to bring the large crowd to the grounds. The beautiful inclore was gay with color for the assic. A large sprinkling of fash-hably dressed women were seen nong the crowd which filled the was and the grandstand. Hea Well Supported

Although Snob II, the Franco-American bred colt recently pur-chased by J. S. Cosden for $85,000, was the outstanding favorite and the ness, Ray Jay and Letterman were the other entries.

Snob II, believed to be an almost certain winner, set the pace for the quarter and half. Coming into the mile, Pillory nosed into the lead and held it to the finsh.

The victory of Pillory came as an entire surprise to the talent as Snob II had been installed an almost prohibitive favorite.

Chief Rival of Morvich.

By his victory in the Preakness and in the Balmont Stakes, Pillory stands out as the one horse to give Morvich, unbeaten winner of the Kentucky Derby, a tussle for three-

Pillory completed the mile three furlongs in 2:18 4-5.

Heilmann walked to open the Tygers second and, with two out, Bassler drew a pass. Oldham dropped a texas leaguer in center, scoring Heilmann. Bassler over-ran second and Rice cut him down with a snap peg to Harris. Ossie Bleuge belted the pill up against the score board in left center as a starter in the third for two bases. He tried to get three on it and died at third. It was a beautiful double but a ridiculous triple.

Jones and Cobb Walk. With one gone in the Tygere third, Jones and Cobb drew passes Nothing happened, though, because the next two died easily. Goebe singled to center, opening the fourth, going up on Smiths nest sacrifice to Blue. Picinich coaxed a pass from Oldham but it went for nothing when Lamotte hit into a double play with a bounder to Jones.

With one gone in Detroit's fourth Rigney took a walk and reached second, when Bassler singled to teft.
Oldham flied to Rice, but Blue's walk filled the bases. Then Johnson us corked all his speed and Bobby Jone was called out on strikes.

Cobb walked as a beginner in the Figers' fifth, Veach lifted to Smith and Heilmann did the same to Rice. Cutshaw singled to center, putting his boss on second.
It was all over for frame when Rigney shot a high fly to Goebel right in the sixth with one gone, only Goebel fan and Smith roll to Oldham insisted on making it Jones. Oldham insisted on making it a tight game. Bassler walked as a starter for the Tygers in the sixth, but was cut down by Picinich on Oldham's bunt in front of the place. Picinich's peg was perfect. Blue took a walk and Johnson decided he had enough. He conferred with Milan and left the pastime flat on its back. Nine walks were too much for back. Nine walks were too much fo him and he gave way to Ray Francis another extended streak of butting Bases Are Loaded. Haney replaced Jones at bat and took a walk, filling the bases. Cobb June 7 before the puzzling slants of grounded to Harris, bringing Oldham over with the tying run. Veach rolled to Judge. It left the score fied. Gharrity, hitting for Picinich in the seventh, was safe on Harrey's fumble. He went up on LaMotte's sacrifice and reached third when Francis grounded to Rigney. Bleuge walked and went over when Harris games of the year, Jake began a hitting streak that endured for twenty-two straight games until halt-walked and went over when Harris forced him with a bounder to Rignay. The Tygers took the lead when Heilmann walloped the ball into the bleachers in right center. It was a terrific drive and set the big crowd wild with delight. The next two died, but Bassler walked and went up on a wild pitch. Oldham singled to left and Smith's peg to Gharrity cut down Bassler at the plate.

Rice walked as a starter in the eighth and Cobb had no fewer than five pitchers warming up in left field. Judge shot a liner to Hall mann. Sobb dashed in to give Gldham advice after Goebel had two balls called on him and finally took a walk. This brought Ehmke to the slab. Earl Smith stepped into the first one and kicked it to the wall in center for three bases, sending Rice and Goebel over the pan.

Gharrity drove a liner right at Haney and LaMotte's foul fly to Bassler closed the frame.

Blue's Single Clean.

Blue's Single Clean. Blue opened Detroit's half with a lean single to center. Haney sacrificed to Bluege, who sat down but still managed to get the ball across to Judge in time. It was a brilliant play by the Peorla Pippin. After Cobb had rolled to LaMotte, Francis pulled a wild pitch that let Blue score the tying run. Veach's roller to LaMotte left the two teams tied. Heilman opened the Tigers' ninth with a single to center, advancing on Cutshaw's sacrifice. Rigney beat on Cutshaw's sacrifice. Rigney beat out a slow roller to Francis, Heilman reaching third. Gharrity nailed Rigney stealing before Rassier walked. When LaMotte tossed out Ehmke extra innings were in order.

Harris Heilman robbed Turkey Brower of a home run in the tenth, Turkey poled the pill out to the screen in right and Heilman, leaping high into the air, brought it flown in his gloved hand. That drive might have ended the game right there.

LaMotte's wild peg gave Blue a life as a starter in the Tigers' tenth but when Henry bunted Francis got Blue at second. Cobb's single to right sent Haney to third. Then came Vench's drive to right and over
